

To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing in regards to the new broadcast service known as Low Power FM (LPFM). I do not wish these stations to take priority over current FM translator services such as K-LOVE, which is often heard on FM translators.

K-LOVE is very important in our community of 50,000. It provides alternate music to the secular mainstream. As we have no local Christian radio station, if this service was no longer offered or replaced by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming, many people would have to go without this type of Christian, family-oriented broadcasting.

It is in the best public interest for K-Love to continue to air regularly on the radio as it offers family entertainment that one does not have to censor. To lose this station would be a great loss to our community.

Sincerely,

Holly Meyer
